

SOFTWARE AGENTS will be greatly facilitated by semantic content on the Web. In the depicted scenario, Lucy's agent tracks down a physical therapy clinic for her mother that meets a combination of criteria and has open appointment times that mesh with her and her brother Pete's schedules. Ontologies that define the meaning of semantic data play a key role in enabling the agent to understand what is on the Semantic Web, interact with sites and employ other automated services.